Mr. Anderson
Hiring Manager
Biomedical Engineer Position
ABC Medical Care
Canada

Dear Mr. Anderson

I am responding to the advertisement in dayjob.com for a Biomedical Engineer Position. I understand you have a position open for someone with experience, aptitude, and talent for improving healthcare practices by applying various engineering principles and techniques. I believe my credentials will interest and match to the requirement you have listed in the job portal.

I possess more than three years of progressive experience in the Biomedical Engineering field. During this span of time, I was responsible for focusing on engineering, biomechanical principles, biology to the design, evaluation, development and health systems and products. I am well aware of including artificial organs, prostheses, instruments and other medical information.

I possess excellent time management skills and have the ability to stay organized. I am always punctual, alert and ready to perform my duties in a professional manner.

My enclosed resume provides information about my previous employment and my education and awards.

I would be glad and appreciate if we can discuss on my education and experience further. Thank you for your valuable time for reviewing my job application.

Sincerely,

Mark Medina
