Dear Mr. Bach

I am writing to apply for the Network Analyst position which I have seen advertised in dayjob.com. I believe that I possess the necessary networking skills and analytical abilities to prove my candidacy to you.

I have been working the past six years as a Network Analyst for National Financial Partners Corp. I enjoy working in Networking and feel that I have a good understanding of networks and I enjoy analyzing them and seeing how effective they are for my clients.

I am very knowledgeable about my career, and have extensive experience conducting research on and implementing the proper network hardware and software for computer systems requiring proper communication at the internal level.

I am capable of working in a highly competitive environment, striving to provide best networking strategies to bring success to my organization. I would function to work closely with the IT manager, members and employees to suggest superior computer based solutions, work with them to document and recover information.

Please review my attached CV for additional details regarding my expertise and career achievements. I will follow up to request an appointment to discuss how my experience and background meets your needs.

Thank you for your time and consideration.
